Dale Emanuel President

As president of Solomon Associates since 2007, Dale Emanuel is responsible for day-to-day management of the company's operations and product and service offerings, including comparative performance analysis and management consulting services for the refining, chemicals, pipeline, and power generation industries.

Prior to Solomon Associates, Emanuel served in senior management roles for a diverse range of organizations, including Total, Fina, and Placid Refining, over the course of three decades in the refining and petrochemicals industries.

With significant operational experience in both the United States and Europe, Emanuel has held roles including senior vice president, director general, and plant manager. Among his experiences, he has managed two refineries and a petrochemical complex.

Dale holds a bachelor's degree in chemical engineering from the University of Texas.
